Thread: Hackuman

Hey folks.

Ive not really got into the hackuman game because every time i raise an egg, it gets killed straight away. I think it was either a tread or a convo about this but i cant seem to find it - not really looked properly to be honest with you - about the rarity of the eggs and the ones you should hatch etc.

Can anyone give me some tips on what eggs to work on, what ones to ignore and how to not die as soon as the cooldown ends? I sort of really want to give this game a good try.

Much love.

Gold and Ev1le are the two best.

Purple is pretty decent, sometimes you get lucky.

I don't bother with red, blue and green eggs. I have had some luck with a red or blue in the past. With those I would hatch the red or blue and then every time I got another red or blue egg, I would feed it to that hackúman making it stronger for its level. Last season I had a pretty badass Ratr.

But now unless it's Gold, Ev1le or Purple. I don't waste my time. DemonAsylum has a wealth of information regarding the game. Although he's still your enemy, he's always willing to give advice.
