Thread: Any idea what the best 'spy camera sunglasses' are? \(Hidden camera glasses\)

The Watcher - August 11, 2024, 4:56 pm

I'm looking for the best hidden camera sunglasses, obviously with a hidden camera.

The ones sold on Amazon are shit. And camera is very visible. Ray Ban are literally putting a light on them whenever recording.

I need something GOOD. Meaning, not just 2 hours recording time. All day and more if possible.

Must look good/be cool sunglasses.

Do you know any? And what other spy items are there? Like a pen with a camera, or anything else, like a taser. Thanks!

SPY DRAKE 54 SRX00083

But me personally would probably go for spy baseball cap instead

Not that I ever used either of them, but that would be my opinion on the matter.

I own a pair of the ray-bans. The second you start recording a video you can cover up the flashing light. Really good camera quality, decent microphone too. They are pricey tho

Why do you need spy glasses? Do you have someone stalking you?

Yes, the world. Maybe. Or a few.

I feel like any sunglasses with a camera is kind of obvious, there are better places to hide one on your person.

Your username is very fitting to your question, just noticed. What are you planning on achieving with this OP?

I have been being watched. For 8 years I have been aware. The government, and celebrities, my family, all the people that live around me, and you, and maybe the rest of the world, have been watching me. I am the greatest evident, and digital history that is the most significant to the human race in the history of the world, at least. I have been blessed by God, in front of you all, unless you have not seen, or are somehow denying it. I have science on me, that proves I have been righteous for 8 years. You can read my mind/match my feelings. I am okay with that, right now, in my bubble, with no understanding. But if I saw your minds, and feelings, I probably would not be. I hope they are lying to you in a very intelligent way, all of you, and you are not sell-outs to the devil, or just in my Hell.

I don't want to continue typing, but I am watching you watch Me, eventually. :-)
