Do you think the FED will lower interest rates in September? And will there be a rise for bitcoin in the winter? What do you think?

Think there's more to it than just the fed cutting rates, i'm 100% the trump/kamala election will have a huge impact on this whole thing, sure we have ETF's now but they can also sell, so there's no guarantee that will get us higher prices, right now though, the first step in the right direction is rate cuts, followed by trump winning since he endorses crypto and what not, nfa, just my 2 cents, ranting.

Thanks for your answer. Yes, of course, the presidential elections will have a big impact

Don't vote for Kamala Harris and any Democratic Party, they are against cryptocurrency. It will be a HUGE blow if they win in November. At least Donald Trump is willing to embrace cryptocurrency. He thinks we can get off our national debt with Bitcoin. I think it will if they buy more bitcoins right now?

I think guys it alla depends on how the situation gonna be in ukraine and middle east

If the wars finish i think we will see a lot if investement on crypto

But if this don't happen we will be in a big trouble and maybe we will see china vs usa i hope that this don't happen we need peace
