Welcome to HF - Good luck on your journey to getting some mula. Do you have a plan already on how you will achieve this, or is that one of the reasons you've come to forum? I'm sure you'll achieve your goal, if you put in enough effort and want it bad enough.

You might consider checking out the Help Docs if you haven't already. Those are the rules of the site, it's easy to break rules when you don't know them.. so it can't hurt to read them over once. Something else you might consider is upgrading your account, so you can access the additional features not available to regular members.

Other then that, I guess I will see you at the bank.
