For this method, we will be utilizing chatgpt to create customized and unique ebooks to sell or share

To start, think of some popular niche right now, such as dropshipping, crypto, etc, and choose the one you like the most

If you cannot think of any ideas, literally ask Chatgpt " what are some popular ebook categories right now "

For this guide example, we will be using "Make money online methods"

Since this is a very broad topic, lets ask Chatgpt for some specific money making methods

ChatGPT came up with freelancing, dropshipping, affiliate marketing, content creation coaching, investing and trading, we will choose Affiliare Marketing

The next step is to create a rough outline for the ebook, ask chatgpt to help you! "Write an outline for a book focusing in Affiliare Marketing

This will help organize some rough ideas into a structured outline

Copy this outline to your liking and start building a rough draft in google docs or another document editor

To get more content on each chapter in your outline, ask CHATGPT for this example our first chapter in the outline was Understanding your consumer. " Write a detailed chapter on "Understanding your consumer". This is our first chapter, Chatgpt should start crating a detailer chapter setup for you in a series of sections, you can add or remove to your liking

You can probably see where the rest is going now, use ChatGPT To create the backbone of your eBook

The last step to complete the eBook is to add some nice graphics and create your final draft after editing mistakes, humanizing etc etc et

Now we all need to do is find a platform to share and profit from the ebook!

I recommend you use Gumroad to sell your Ebook, although they do charge a 10% sales fee, you can search around online and browse whatever niche your eBook may sell better, you could also make your own website and start selling on whatever platform you wish
