Where we at? What are you using and what are you doing with it? Inb4 mad kids.

I don't cheat in COD because I lost interest in it personally but when PUBG was a thing I would use the typical godmode and stuff, same as csgo lol. I miss them fun days kek Modding a playstation 4 is a good way to go, I've got a friend who can ruin warzone lobbies with all sorts of exploits and the classic aimbot etc - he spoofs the entire backend demonware connection via the playstation network so there's literally no ID for reports to go against, to everything except the game server itself, he is a ghost with little to no resource being applied to console cheating due to so much focus going to PC.

Also saw people early accessing the Black Ops 6 servers until they whitelisted them about a week before the CoD Next event. But before then, if you knew how to get on, it would let you.

Mods are a W. They've provided so much more content and replayability to tons of games. It can be tough sometimes deciding if you want to play a game Vanilla first or just in general. Also if you do use mods, if you want to go absolutely nutty with them or just a few more QoL type ones. It's good that there are so many options though obviously. As for hacks or like in terms of aimbot for multiplayer, L obviously.

vaya pense que era otra cosa [warn]

Man I used an aimbot one time just to see how it worked and I got banned after like 2 hours, and I gotta get a whole new PC or a gaming console to play again I'm pretty sure.

It was for a different shooter tho.

I don't cheat in Cod these days. I enjoy playing legit with my friends. Plenty of fun cheats out there though for those who like to dabble.

I cheat for money mostly, i resell cheats and do boosts and custom accounts plus more lol. Just seeing if there was a cod cheating community on HF or if I should build one.

just chilling on PC mostly, been playing a mix of CoD runs lately. Also messing around with a bit of modding for single-player games keeps things interesting.

Mods are always a win. Especially if you enjoy private world of warcraft servers such as mine wink wink

As a staff member of one of the oldest hack sites I will say I enjoyed hacking the older cod games the new ones are not as fun to hack on and helios has made a hack for every cod game.

Using Aimbot on Call of Duty is like cheating in the Special Olympics.

Pr0m3th3us - May 17, 2025, 2:39 am

People who cheat on video games nowadays are pretty pathetic.
