Get Free Money On Telegram Through Tokens

Intro

Telegram launched TON (The Open Network) and their TON coin also. Since then and especially this year, many tokens have popped up on Telegram with games. Upon interacting with them, you get a chance to be enrolled in their airdrops, which they deliver to their users eventually. Those airdropped tokens gain value, get listed on big exchanges like Binance, BitGet, etc. Hence, those tokens become valuable, and you get real money through cashing in or exchanging them for other cryptocurrencies.

I will tell you which tokens I had enrolled that ended up giving me a small amount of money (unfortunately, their airdrops have finished), how I withdrew them, and which tokens in the future are going to do airdrop for their users.

All you have to do is join their mini bot app. Do simple tasks like following their Telegram channels, interacting with their games, posting about them on social media, inviting other users, etc.

The majority of these tokens do not require you to deposit money for their games. You can take part in their airdrops without it. Although after the airdrops, some tokens may require a gas fee in TON (like $1 or less) to transfer those earned tokens into your wallet or exchange.

Tokens I Earned

$DOGS

Dogs is a meme coin launched on the TON blockchain. The total supply of DOGS is 550,000,000,000. They gave up a big chunk of those through airdrops to their users. All I had to do was interact with their Telegram app, complete various small tasks that I mentioned above, and I made 5,873 DOGS in total. I probably spent an hour or two over a week to earn these Dogs.

After their airdrop announcement, I withdrew my DOGS using TON (spent like $0.2 or less), and these were worth like $7 at the time.

$CATI

A more game-focused token this time. The game is called Catizen. The total supply of CATI stands at 1 billion. This was more of a game where you had to generate and feed cats. I didn't spend much time on it.

After their airdrop announcement, they gave me like 2 $CATI, which will be worth little (we will know soon). But still, something, I guess.

Tokens That May Be Worth

Now I will post the tokens that may do airdrop. Seeing the trend of TON tokens, a few might be worth something, just like $DOGS was. The more time you spend doing the tasks, the bigger the share of these tokens you will get.

I will keep it short and concise. There will be referral links to these tokens.

$CATS

Token Launch Date: Late 2024

Total Supply: 600 Billion

Tasks To Earn $CATS: Playing their partner games, subscribing to their social networks, joining their communities, inviting friends, etc.

Withdrawal Method: Likely to be the same as $DOGS where you will have to spend a very small amount of $TON in gas fee.

Outro

There are many tokens like these. Frankly, too many to count. You can also research it and spend some time. You don't have to participate in all token airdrops, but just in good enough and popular tokens that you will end up getting some money.

My guess is if you can collect and play enough popular bot games of these tokens, you may strike gold with one, especially if you hold these tokens long-term. Although my experience with the majority of these meme tokens or coins has been that they do end up tanking. So if you need money, cash out. If not, then hold these tokens long-term.

Who knows which one might become the next Dogecoin.

Good Luck! ?

UPDATE: $CATI got listed today and one is worth ~$0.9 right now. Depending on how many you got. Not bad for free money.
