Thread: Doing 5 Free Landing Page Websites

Masters - September 28, 2024, 7:58 pm

Sup

I'll do up to 5 Free Landing Page style Website designs, by this I mean I will create a website that looks good visually to express your business, though I will not provide functionality like sign ups, ecommerce, etc.

I will be using only css, html, javascript, and php.

Feel free to reach out with a brief description of the website you need and the ideas if any you have for it and I'll respond if interested.

Mostly looking to work on smaller projects that need pages like:

Home/Index
Contact
Help
404

However I am open to more depending on what you have in mind.

Doing this to build a small portfolio so I can start an online webdesign service for some passive income.

Let me know!

Okay I have two solid designs now, and two pending. Feel free to reach out, I still have room for one more unique design I'll do for Free.

Great initiative. Maybe if could you share some demos that you have done in the past.

I would, if I were able to post photos; and I don't desire to post just to do that. But anyone interested can reach out and of course I'll supply photos, since its free I think that's a bit of an even compromise.

Thank you

Are you saying that you are providing this for free where will this work be shown off ?

PitbullT0r - October 11, 2024, 2:22 am

Hello, its still available?

I currently have three projects lined up, and one pending a closing deal. Once I've completed those I will check in with this thread again and let everyone know when I am available for work, surely by then, I'll have more work to post worth viewing. I'll probably do about 2 more free ones for members here after that, then start charging for my work as I'm getting rather good at it.

I make everything from nothing, all html css from scratch.

If you have the guts to go custom, maybe try a fresher stack like MERN or MEAN stack

I am almost nearing the completion of my portfolio and will be posting my Web Development Services soon. I will be closing this thread, as I don't need any more Portfolio Projects.
