Do we get the October Feast event this year? For the past three years, participants who posted 500 posts during the event received the Pumpkin Award. I haven't heard any news this time. Any updates?

There has been news actually. I believe that Omni is planning on making it 500 posts along with 25 threads.

It started, this year is 500 posts and 25 threads, the progress bar is not available on the award goals page for the time being but Omni will make it available soon

And the award is green

Yes it's active right now. The award goals page isn't updated but when it is, it will pull all posts from October 1st at 12am.

Please be patient, doing a few things at once. Should be active on Award Goals page soon enough.
