Finally got a chance to watch it last night, and it was such a masterpiece. They did such a tremendous job with this one. I loved the plot. I loved the cameos. The 4th wall breaks. It was so good. I've had the option to watch various camera copies but I wanted to wait until I could see it in 4k and truly enjoy it. I'm glad I waited.

If you haven't seen it yet, I would highly recommend you quit wasting your time and check it out.

Yeah, I watched the movie a while back as well, and it is one of my favorite movies of 2024. Possibly even of all time. Everything about it was executed perfectly, from the plot to the filming to everything else. I just really enjoyed it.

For me, for 2024 I rank it second behind Twisters. Probably the best Marvel movie I've seen though.

Yeah, Twisters was a pretty good movie too. Marvel's quality of movies has just been increasing, the amount of time and effort they put into their movies can really be seen in the final product.

That sounds exactly like something I would enjoy.

Adding it to my watchlist now!
