I think visiting Italy (specifically Rome), or Greece would be really interesting from a history standpoint. So many major events happened in those countries.

I knew a guy who went to New Zealand in his early 20s for missionary type work. He ended up marrying a New Zealand girl after a few years, he went to NZ and straight up never came back, lmao. He said he loved it in every way possible.

I've been wanting to go to Europe and visit some of the countries there for quite some time, specifically Spain and France. Going to Japan sometime would be pretty cool too.

Charlie Sheen - October 3, 2024, 3:56 pm

Croatia. I would really like to go vacation there. Looks incredible, and it's cheap.

Mooooookie - October 4, 2024, 4:22 am

I wouldn't mind visiting Japan. Although I don't speak the language, and can't read it.. their culture intrigues me, and would love to experience it face to face. With the use of hand held translators, it should make visiting a breeze.

sharn - October 4, 2024, 2:00 pm

Japan for me.

I always wanted to experience the culture and food.

Confound - October 4, 2024, 2:06 pm

Japan is at the top of my list too! The culture, the technology, and the beauty of places like Kyoto and Tokyo are so captivating. I'd love to explore the temples and try authentic ramen. What's drawing you to Japan?
