What type of scope you want to narrow yourself down to?

Being the the millitary as an ICT consultant, and in the past dabbled in cracking/sqli/SecOPS;
- I'm mainly proficient in Linux, Windows server, and getting projects rolling and doing the initial research on how it should be the best way.

I would say I am not an expert in any field especially but more a know how of most of the things that happen in todays ICT space.

This is only a small portion. Teach me something and I should get the hang of of ut pretty fast. No black hat stuff obviously.

To narrow it down:

- I'm experienced in many ARPG, MMO games where there could be money to be made. Did someone business with giftcrafts before. (This is the type of stuff I am looking at) Obviously starting at the bottom again.
- Used to be very into cracking and I know myw ways around it exempting the time I've been off it. But this can be learned quickly again.

If you require further information or an in-voice call. Do no hesitate to send me a private message.

Kind Regards,

Any jobs or long term jobs availableyet?

Stilll looking for anything, can as small as be. Just hit me up :à
