Thread: What's your favorite coffee drink and your go-to establishment?

jcole - October 5, 2024, 5:12 pm

I have two questions to ask in this one thread. What is your favorite type of coffee and what is your go-to store to drink said coffee? I don't drink as much coffee anymore as I have in the past. I tend to drink more coffee when it becomes more cold outside. In Texas it does not get very cold often, but there are a few months out of the year that require me to drink something hot. Today I drank from a place called Seven Brew because it was one of the grand opening and they offered a t-shirt with a drink purchase. Unfortunately I came WAY to late, and didn't get a shirt because they had ran out. I tried the Blondie Caramel & Vanilla Breve which is like a Dutch Bros Golden Eagle blended. It's good, but I got a large and it is way to big.

I like iced drinks because in Texas my balls are always sweating

My favorites are regular latte, caramel latte, flat white, or just drip coffee with milk.

I haven't gotten a coffee from a shop in a long time, but I guess I'd probably have to pick Starbucks. They've got good stuff.

Iced Caramel macchiato from Starbucks

Prawnster - October 5, 2024, 7:24 pm

Never really been a coffee drinker; however, friend of mine made me an "Iced Irish Coffee" and it was great hahaha.

Might have been the alcoholic irish cream that he added but yeah I enjoyed it - Not a fan of hot drinks in general so the iced was a nice touch.

Have you ever tried Black Rifle Coffee Company? I bought like 120 cans from a store that rebuys from large companies. I guess when the product is close to expiration. I got them for .30/c a can. They were not bad either!

If I'm going to Dunkin or something, I'll just get a hot coffee with cream and sugar. I don't go crazy with flavorings.

I usually go for a cappuccino or a caramel latte when I'm in the mood for coffee. As for where I get it, I like to visit small local cafes, but Starbucks is a convenient go-to for me when I'm in a hurry. I totally get drinking more coffee when it's cold out; something about a hot drink in chilly weather just hits different. That's a bummer about the shirt at Seven Brew! At least you got to try something new though. The Blondie Caramel & Vanilla Breve sounds pretty sweet. How was the flavor for you?

SuseGD - October 6, 2024, 3:08 pm

I don't really drink too much coffee, so I don't really have much of an opinion on it.

Mr_Kh4os - October 6, 2024, 3:08 pm

I really only like black coffee, no cream/sugar/anything needed.

Black coffee with nothing added is savage.

M?tt - October 6, 2024, 3:49 pm

I make my own cold brew. It's cheaper and lasts longer than going out anywhere. I drink it black and don't need anything extra in it because I enjoy the taste. Cold brew isn't bitter like hot coffee, so it's not as foul as most of you think. However, I drink hot coffee black as well because I don't enjoy drinking calories.

I grew up on a farm sugar was expensive if that makes sense haha. I guess I never changed but never felt like I am missing out either, thank god I missed out on the pumpkin spice thing.

That's awesome! Cold brew is definitely smoother, and making it at home is such a smart move. I also enjoy black coffee for the same reason. No need for the extra calories when the coffee itself is great.

Not much of a coffee drinker, but if i'm going to have any it'll likely be a cappuccino, just because that's what my gf mostly drinks.

I borrowed a french press once. There are other ways to make it. Now, I use a Keurig.

Wasn't mine. What's your favorite way to make coffee?

Mr_Kh4os - October 8, 2024, 6:14 am

I don't drink anything besides black coffee so usually just a cup of joe from gas station or mcdonalds will do haha.

Gooooooooooooo it's good for your soul. Try cold brew, I find that if I drink too much hot black coffee it causes bloating where as cold brew no real issues and doesn't give me any stomach issues.

You'd be shocked at how our bodies process hot coffee vs cold especially depending on the beans/acidity.

The Mrs loves it, but I have yet to order one.

For sure, whatever you do make sure you drink through a straw though it can stain your teeth I am a bit paranoid in that regard my smile is very important to me as I am sure it is to you haha.

I don't do any cream or sugar but I do like ice in it nd typically a medium roast.
