Welcome to Hack Forums.

If you haven't already, take a couple minutes and read over the Help Docs. Those are the official rules of conduct for the site, and while most people don't think they need to read them, it can't hurt to take a couple minutes to review them as it's not difficult to overlook one of them. You might also consider upgrading your account.. which will make your time at Hack Forums much more enjoyable, as it will unlock some different perks for your account.

Also, if you're unaware.. this month is OctoberFest.. and while the month has already started, it's not too late to participate. Some members achieved it in 2 days, so more than enough time for you to join the festivities.

See you around
