Thread: Do you cut your own hair?

Mooooookie - October 6, 2024, 6:07 am

Do you go to the barbershop to get your hair cut, or do you cut it on your own? For the most part of my life, I always went to the barbershop to get trimmed up, but within the past 2-3 years.. I've been cutting it myself. A female friend bought me a pair of clippers for Christmas, and while I initially used it only for trimming my face hair, I later started using it to cut my own hair.. and I've been following thru with that ever since. This is saving me $40 every 2 weeks! Not bad.

Last time I cut mine was like a year and half ago I think, they're quite long now they easily reach my shoulders, and for the barb I do it myself, 10€ for this is too expensive in my opinion haha I rather prefer getting some beers instead

N - October 6, 2024, 6:10 am

I got to a barber. $40 every two weeks ish. Meh not bad.

sharn - October 6, 2024, 6:35 am

Nope, I prefer to relax and let someone else handle it.

My wife used to cut it for me when the corona virus was there, now i go to barber to cut it better-shaped

I find getting a hair cut is the BIGGEST chore.... no I do pay way too much for someone to do a terrible job. I do only get it done when it's very annoying. My hair gets curly when it grows more than 2 inches long. So when I notice I cant style it I go and get it cut.....

Speaking of which, that reminds me. I need a haircut again.

I'm balding, so I just shave it all every couple of weeks. Trim my beard then too. Easy and free, just takes 15 minutes every couple of weeks.

Yeah, I'm headed in the direction myself. I'm not necessarily balding, but my top is starting to thin out. It's been starting to thin out for some years, but seems to be moving at an extremely slow pace.. which I'm OK with. I'm not in any rush to go bald. But ever since it started to get a little light up top, a nice number 1 with the clippers is enough for me.

Epic - October 6, 2024, 12:10 pm

Nope! I cut it once and it looked awful so I haven't cut it since. I've debated trying to actually learn HOW to cut it, then maybe I could do it and it wouldn't look bad. I usually just go to a shop every month or so, give or take and have someone else do it.

jcole - October 6, 2024, 2:00 pm

I go to Great Clips and pay $20 plus a $5 tip for my haircut once a month.

Portugals - October 6, 2024, 2:05 pm

No, I don't cut it myself.

Prawnster - October 6, 2024, 2:09 pm

Nah, I go to the barber and he sorts it hahaha, wouldn't wanna risk cutting my beard and hair myself :D

SIM-2362145 - October 6, 2024, 2:24 pm

No dear i go to the barber i would not want to mess them up myself.

123browser - October 6, 2024, 2:30 pm

Almost always done it myself but I taught significant other to do it instead so I can browse HF more

LeetSpeed - October 6, 2024, 2:34 pm

No I have a barber that gives me nice cuts.

Mr_Kh4os - October 6, 2024, 2:39 pm

I do just couldn't understand what I was paying $25-30 for a basic cut anyways so just watch some youtube videos and buy a $60 shaver boom haha.

SuseGD - October 6, 2024, 3:28 pm

I do go to the barbershop whenever I need to get a haircut. There's absolutely no way I would be able to cut my own hair, and even if I could, it would look terrible.

Confound - October 6, 2024, 3:29 pm

Been going to barbers for haircuts, don't plan on changing that any time soon.

ailo - October 6, 2024, 4:09 pm

Theyre around 50-60€ for a regular hair cut here , rather pay a friend half.

Cap - October 6, 2024, 7:08 pm

My hair stays relatively short, so I just take out the buzzer and have my wife trim it up about once a month. I have nothing to complain about.

Pigley - October 6, 2024, 7:10 pm

I once went into the bathroom to cut the hair and save money. When I came out everybody struggled to hold back their laughter, except for my brother who laughed loudly while pointing. I will never do that again. D:

Jake Johnson - October 19, 2024, 4:58 pm

I go to a barber once a month for $25 so that isn't bad in my opinion. I don't think I'd want to attempt cutting my own hair unless I was doing a complete buzz cut lol.

F4tDoinkz - October 19, 2024, 5:00 pm

Nope, I go to a barber. I cut all my hair maybe twice to 3 times a year. I grow it out a lot of the times too.

honeyslife - October 21, 2024, 10:01 am

My mom used to cut my hair but it is actually so bad so now I have a hair person do it every like month

Morphh - October 21, 2024, 10:09 am

Yeah, I never cut my hair myself I always go to a barber. I like to look good, and cutting my own hair won't help with that. I thought cutting your own hair was for people who are bald lol?

account_ - October 21, 2024, 11:57 am

Yes shave it to the bone.

ethanwonggg - October 21, 2024, 1:52 pm

I really want to, but I dont wanna risk it, I might get a perm soon though.

My hair is super straight and I want it to be slightly wavy lol

?ystem - October 21, 2024, 3:25 pm

I cut my own hair at home by just taking the buzzer and going to town on my head without a guard, although very carefully. I'll admit that I didn't master the art overnight but I eventually did get quite good at it, and I save money in the process.

DanielZ - October 21, 2024, 3:44 pm

Only once when I went bald

2xTheTap115 - October 22, 2024, 11:33 pm

I'd rather use someone experienced than experiment on my own, it never ends well ?

ahw9n2io8wd9h - October 22, 2024, 11:58 pm

Yep, started shaving my head bald every winter a few years ago.
