Thread: Whats Your First Award You've Recieved While Here At Hack Forums?

Mooooookie - October 6, 2024, 12:19 pm

As the title suggests:

What was the first Award you've received since becoming a member here at Hack Forums? If I'm correct, my first award was the Quick Love Award - The pink heart. Out of all the Awards on the Goal Page, it seemed like the one that was closest within my grasp.. so was the first one I set my sights on, and sure enough was the first one I managed to obtain. It's been game on ever since. How about yourself.. which was your first award?

Bastille - October 6, 2024, 12:33 pm

It was the I think, if I remember well I sent something like 5000 bytes to another member and he sent me the award. Back in 2019 bytes were sold for something like 4 to 5$ for 1k bytes

My first was bounce head, second was the ninja one

My first two I received at the same time were the lucky award and the sapphire of UB3R award.

Bytes used to be $4-5 per 1k? So they're going down in value now. What do you think caused the value to go down on bytes? Maybe competition in bytes market?

Aeowulf - October 6, 2024, 12:52 pm

I bought my way in getting the little uber award.

Lack of activity after the die-down of COVID-19, less people participating in betting on sportsbook/flipping, and changes made to the forum as to their true economic value over the last year or so. Only to be expected. Mine was the quickly loved award.

the many benefits of getting Uber. I wasn't even aware that it came with an award until after upgrading.

So the forum was pretty active during the whole covid-19 thing, and once people could start going back out the house, things started to die down? I guess that is to be expected. Haven't tried my luck with Sportbook or Flipping yet.

? Same, but I was happy with. Awards were harder to get back then, so I was pumped!

Pretty much. A lot of the dedicated few are still here daily and many regulars still come by often. Furthermore the developers are making substantial improvements and changes to the site in hopes to increase engagement and promote new user activity.

EDIT: It's also a matter of Discord kind of wrecking most forums though. This seems like a touchy subject for Omni (and I don't blame him) so I wouldn't go on too much about it XDD

jcole - October 6, 2024, 1:22 pm

I believe my first award on the forum was the quick love award.

Prawnster - October 6, 2024, 2:12 pm

Mine was the ub3r diamond thing for upgrading and then I managed to get the lucky clover, gift and then the slots one which was good.

Mr_Kh4os - October 6, 2024, 2:41 pm

Ace of Spades was my first and then Bytes bag told myself I was gunna get a few before the diamonds/green heart one and ended up messing it up anyways lol.

Cap - October 6, 2024, 7:39 pm

I believe mine was the Sapphire of Ub3r back in 2014. That's when my obsession began.

I'm still in the race for this.

Confound - October 6, 2024, 8:01 pm

I think the first ever award was either the green gem or the blue gem for getting ub3r upgrade. I don't really remember though. I've donated well over $1250 at this point. I unfortunately removed a lot of the awards I had back in the day.

Yin Yang - October 6, 2024, 8:01 pm

Not sure if I remember. Maybe ub3r diamond

Snowwy - October 7, 2024, 1:11 am

I think my Ub3r diamond I would say ??

Deany - October 7, 2024, 1:11 am

The blue ub3r sapphire I believe...

That's the same as me with that one.

The Pact - October 7, 2024, 5:04 am

Lounge Head was my first. Quickly Loved was my second. Everyday Ninja nearly killed me. I lost it so many times, including on time when I was at 67%. I had to work until 9pm that night, and I got confused about the time zones and lost the LOT.?

123browser - October 7, 2024, 5:37 am

I have some small egg only

Understandable. I'm all for whatever will help the forum get back to where it once was, as far as activity and engagement. While things might have died down from what they were, they're far from ever being over.. and I can see the massive effort he puts towards keeping activity alive around here. I believe with the server upgrade, will come with many new benefits, which should also in turn gain new activity. I don't think he has anything to worry about as far as the forum completely dying, as there are many members that are totally dedicated to the site, which should always keep things alive.

Those Eggs were part of the Hackuman Game, which recently got discontinued from the site.
