Thread: Destiny 2 players?

Calling all Destiny 2 players on HF! How long have you been playing the game, and how did you first start? I'm a pretty new player, and one of my close friends got me into the game. I've been playing ever since, and I've enjoyed every moment of it. How about you?

I loved Destiny 1 but surprisingly enough I never even bought Destiny 2.

I think I had already taken my very long break away from gaming by the time it came out.

By playing with my Xbox friends, usual stuff.

Destiny was so much fun, especially the raids. And the glitching was also a lot of fun for us since we came from the old school CoD4 glitching community.

Yeah, raids are awesome, especially if you're doing them with your friends. Glitching in-game is pretty cool, but basically everything has been patched in the latest updates of D2.

Oh yeah I meant glitching back in D1. Was many ways to get out of the map, on the wall barriers, in areas you weren't meant to get on top of lol. Random stuff really.

Also yes, running raids without friends is like playing a BR game or CoD Zombies (not single player) without friends -- it's just not fun and doesn't work out well lol.

I played a lot to Destiny 1, I also played to Destiny 2 but I stopped like 2 years ago, too many DLCs that's crazy
