Is that game still a good game, i really enjoyed back in 2022, don't know if there is still someone who plays it but i would love to get back into it, anyone rooting for EFT?

I still play it. It's pretty fun. It's been optimized a bit. If you haven't played since 2022 its quite different. More maps, old maps have been rehailed, armor completely reworked, you can vault over shit now.

No way, we need to play sometimes then, i really would love to get back to it!

I used to play a while back, but fuck it's hard.

It's good but to me it got pretty boring after a while of consistently playing it every night.

The problem is that even your average public cheat that is super cheap doesn't get detected for multiple wipes and there are not enough manual bans going on. No need to closet cheat and barely get your account reset mid wipe

The issue for me with the game is that you can invest hours into it like I did and then you have people using cheats to see through walls and tap you on the head. Last I played I went in as soon as I got into the mall area even though I wasn't making a noise or anything a dude from across the Mall running full sprint shot me and I rage quit.

illuminati? - October 9, 2024, 7:06 pm

I haven't played, but I don't think I have enough time to grind it.
