Thread: If you could add one feature to HF, what would it be?

Moookie - October 9, 2024, 3:50 am

Question:

If Omni sent you a private message, and said that he was going to be adding some new features to HF, and that he was allowing you to choose one feature. no matter what it is, and that he would add it.. what would that feature be?

If I had the decision to make, I would probably come up with some more Award Goals. Every one likes Awards, you see how many people popped out for OctoberFest, which essentially people do to get the Award. So I think adding more Award Goals would not only give users more things to do on the site, but should also increase the amount of engagement on the site daily.

That's a great suggestion! Adding more award goals would definitely boost engagement and motivate users to participate more actively. Awards bring out a sense of accomplishment and fun competition, and if there were a variety of unique ones, it could encourage different types of contributions to the forum. Plus, it keeps things fresh and gives members something to strive for over time. Do you have any specific award ideas in mind?

I would contribute greatly to the site by displaying a banner telling people to donate to my crypto wallets for absolutely nothing in return ?

Said it many times, we need more awards, and more activity from members, to raise it as gold ages

A voting system for things like MOTM would be pretty cool.

Report someone to the police immediately with one click. Just with a single click without writing anything.

Not sure, I'll have to come back to this

Yah, I think Awards are the trick to building back up the engagement on the site. It's just a matter of coming up with ideas for how to earn those new awards.

Maybe some new styling/theming, especially for code blocks and such. I like the retro-esque feel of HF, but I also like modern UIs like JetBrains' new UI.

An official voting system would be pretty sweet. That's not a bad suggestion, maybe that's something Omni might consider.

Agreed, I felt like when I lurked HF the awards/groups were what made me register and stay here instead of other sites.

Hmmm so u say omni cant make good ideas be live?

Omniscient someone here need a warning ??

HOMODIN - October 11, 2024, 1:22 am

Imagine if bytes could be mined or even just kept in a crypto wallet...
This is something that I have thought about several times tbh.

I would want a 1 click buttoncto grow a beard like his avatar.
It would ship me a bottle of rogaïne and just for men light brown.
