Welcome to the forum k1m

Hope you come back to make more then that one post, it's always nice to have a new face around here. Not sure if you have done this already, but if not take a moment to read thru the Help Docs so you can make yourself familiar with the rules of the site.

You might consider upgrading your account, which will give you access to more features on the site, while also helping the site owner out so he can maintain this place. Well worth it in my opinion.
