Thread: Anyone still have Flappy Bird?

SuseGD - October 11, 2024, 10:44 am

So I found one of my old phones, and turns out it still has Flappy Bird on it! Playing it after so much time brought back quite a few memories, along with a lot of nostalgia. I've heard that iPhones with Flappy Bird on them still sell quite decently, but I'm probably not going to sell it as it's more of a nostalgic thing. Anyone else still have the game?

Hardly a thing anymore. You can find the apk almost anywhere for android and lots of options for flappy bird on ios.

Ahhh remember those days.

The actual owner / creator of it (The main one) deleted it because he got threats and shit to his house because it was such a frustrating game and people got mad af lol.

He made tons of money out of it, but decided to remove it after like 1 week or a month or something (If I remember correctly)

I have never even heard of Flappy Bird before. But I do miss Angry Birds a lot.

I still have it in my library I think. Or I can get a APK of it. I didn't play it very often but some friends and I did have some fun with it Weren't people selling iPhones with flappy bird for stupid money?

DashPHP - October 11, 2024, 11:58 pm

Prob could go for some good cash but there's plenty of replicas now.

totalcontrol123 - October 12, 2024, 4:38 pm

i remember this app, people was selling thier phones with it on for stupid money on ebay haha

Snowwy - October 12, 2024, 10:05 pm

Wow! Forgot it even existed tbh!

Have not played in years.

sharn - October 13, 2024, 3:51 am

No, but I remember how frustrating it was ?

I remember when this came out. I was in school and literally everyone was playing that damn game and comparing scores. At my age now if I played it I would probably play it once and be like yea I'm done lol.

I have it installed. Only play when taking a shot, or super bored.
