Thread: Favorite Halloween/Horror Movies?

What are you favorite Halloween and/or horror movies? In terms of Halloween, I'd probably have to say Halloweentown and Hocus Pocus from my childhood. In terms of scary movies, my favorites are probably Scream, Jeepers Creepers, and the Halloween series.

I remember that a "kid movie" traumatized me AF, it was called "Don't look under the bed", I also remember about "IT", which definitely wasn't for kids, and traumatized me as well.

I like Halloween but don't watch that much horror movies now, I like The Cabin in the Hood and Evil Dead (the 2013 version), otherwise the usual Sinister, and so on. I think it's hard to find good horror movies nowadays

Shaun of the Dead is an excellent pick for anyone looking for zombie action mixed with humor.

Oh I forgot about Don't Look Under the Bed. I actually enjoyed that movie.

Jaws. As a kid, I was afraid going to the ocean!

For Halloween: "the nightmare before Christmas" and not necessary scary, but my fav horror is "The Conjuring" series (without "The Nun" part)

I hope you both enjoy watching it together.

Let me know how it goes after you watch it.

My favorite horror movies would have to be the Scream series. They did a great job on that series, from the actual Scream mask.. to the movie it self. Scream 2 was my favorite.

Yes, I enjoyed all three of them. Did you hear they're coming out with a Scream 7? They're saying it should be ready for theaters by February 2025. I won't be missing that one.

I haven't seen the latest one yet, so I need to see that first. But no I didn't hear that, that's crazy.

Yeah man, Scream 7 will be here in February.. something I'm looking forward to. That's a movie I will definitely be going to the movie theater to watch.
