Thread: Survive for 1 hour, what are you picking to defend you?

Imagine8 - October 21, 2024, 2:38 pm

Good little debate this one, keen to hear opinions:

You're in an arena with:

- 50 hawks
- 10 crocodiles
- 3 brown bears
- 15 wolves
- 1 hunter w/ rifle
- 7 buffalo
- 10,000 rats
- 5 gorillas
- 4 lions

Pick 2 to defend you. The others attack you.
Goal is to survive 1 hour.

I'm going wolves and hawks, decent amount of wolves for protection and a good amount of hawks for aerial defence.

Let's hear it.

I can't find the video now but some dude made this armored body suit that was just beast. It's not about a weapon, it's about armor. You'll get kicked around and chewed on for an hour but you'll survive.

Iron man Omni is going to be a chew toy for an hour?I respect it. It would have to be full armour though or the rats would get in and you'd be in trouble.

10,000 rats is kinda overpowered imo. With 10,000 rats, the 4 lions (basically killing machines), and 5 gorillas (just big blocks of muscle), you can't not win. Maybe you get shot?

Hang on mate you can't have the whole zoo. You gotta pick 2 only.

Aurelius - October 21, 2024, 2:52 pm

im gonna pick gorillas and hawks gorillas are huuge af they can handle the lions since they can outnumber them and the hawks can handle the rats and the other animals if they outnumber each one of them hawks are pretty dangerous

Pimping - October 21, 2024, 3:02 pm

I think i have to go with 5 gorillas and 4 lions gorillas are really strong and lions are fierce

Interesting, only 9 units total though so be would be tough against the 15 wolves and 50 hawks.

Hell yeah, that's a great idea. You are correct though. A strong defense is what you will need

I'm going gorillas and hawks, for the reasons mentioned above by Aurelius, smart guy

Chrome - October 22, 2024, 5:15 am

Can I pick 2 of the same? I reckon 6 brown bears would chew up.

I guess so lol. Surely your 6 bears are getting overwhelmed by 15 wolves, 50 hawks and 4 lions though. Not even sure they could take the lions.

Give me wolves and hawks man. Wolves are loyal and hawks are just dope, I have faith this combo would work.

You know, great minds.

This is a tricky scenario! To survive for one hour,

I'd choose: 10,000 rats & 5 gorillas.

The combination of the rats numbers and the gorillas brute strength and size seems like the best way to fend off everything else for one hour. The rats can slow and distract, while the gorillas can handle serious threats.

sharn - October 26, 2024, 8:15 am

Rats and hawks work as a perfect team.

The rats create a massive, defensive force on the ground, capable of slowing or stopping most attackers and the hawks cover the sky.

Money- - October 26, 2024, 8:16 am

I will be going to choose myself. To defend against all these animals. Bring it on for real.

ahw9n2io8wd9h - October 26, 2024, 8:25 am

The animals I choose won't fight each other or me? Then bears and gorillas, rats and hawks are easy just sit on your gorillas.

Most people overestimate wolves and lions, if you watch Documentaries about hunters you'll see that most animals will avoid attacking them if the humans are in a group. Gorillas and bears in one group? They won't dare come close.

The only thing winning against them would be 10k rats maybe, death by thousand nibbles or some stupid shit like that.
