Thread: Have You Ever Been On A Plane?

Epic - October 22, 2024, 8:50 am

Hello everyone,

Wanted to see how many people have been on a plane before. Some people I know have never had the opportunity, other people in know have been on a plane many times. How about you?

I've flown just a handful of times. Internationally twice, for a travel vacation. And I've flown domesticated twice as well, to visit family in my country.

Do you enjoy flying? Do you find it scary? Or maybe you find it annoying?

Deany - October 22, 2024, 8:51 am

Ye , like it more than driving ofc

Chrome - October 22, 2024, 8:51 am

I have been on a plane a handful of times. I never really find it scary but I havent been on a massive flight yet.

Trust - October 22, 2024, 8:54 am

I have been on twenty-four different planes. (across the US and across the world)

The novelty wears off after the first couple and then it's a fast, but annoying way to travel.

Nice to get across the country in less than a day, annoying to have baggage requirements, deal with TSA, wait in the airport, etc.

Gem - October 22, 2024, 8:57 am

I've been to 12 countries, some multiple times, so I've flown quite a lot. Flying to Cyprus next week.

InspectorGadget - October 22, 2024, 9:31 am

Not gonna lie, feeling the raw acceleration from a plane as it starts it's takeoff run is always a highlight for me. They are just so big and then bam you're doing like 150-200MPH and on the other side of the airport.

It upsets me slightly that I will likely never get to take a trip on a rocket / into space whereas our near future generations will treat it similar to how we treat planes.

2xTheTap115 - October 22, 2024, 1:20 pm

I myself am one of those who have never seen an airplane from the inside, but at some point in the near future I plan to change that.

Mr_Kh4os - October 22, 2024, 1:26 pm

I personally love flying, it is something about the fact that we started on ground now we're in the air as humans idk haha and I think it's cool to look down at things while you pass.

Both international flights and one time even just me and a classmate in his families 2 seater must be nice to be a millionaire haha.

DanielZ - October 22, 2024, 3:13 pm

I love planes but had really bad experience with the airline which I'll not mention the name, delay was almost 10 hours

Imagine8 - October 22, 2024, 3:48 pm

Going on holiday via plane is elite, in UK based so am always flying to go away. Its literally all I look forwards to so try to fit in as many as I can over the year. Long haul can be a stretch given I'm 6'4 so always try upgrade cabin. I divert all my spending to the BA Premium Plus Amex and collect that companion voucher + Avios for great rates and discounts on flights.

123browser - October 22, 2024, 3:52 pm

Plenty of times. Lost count. Nothing is fun about it if you ask me ahah

Regulus - October 22, 2024, 4:19 pm

I love flying.

My favorite part is when it accelerate from the airport and you know you're on your way.

Pikachu - October 22, 2024, 5:17 pm

I've flown lots of times between Florida, California and Puerto Rico. Been to NY once.

Sounds like most people enjoy it! It really is a fascinating thing to experience, especially take off and landing.

I agree InspectorGadget, hopefully it will be a thing in the future.

Pimping - October 22, 2024, 5:26 pm

I have been on a plane about 3 times

nowhere really special mostly just domestic flights

Domestic flights are fun. I think since the flights are shorter, it ends up being a more fun and relaxed experience, for me at least. Being on a plane for a long time is kind of a drag IMO.

Jake Johnson - October 22, 2024, 5:37 pm

I have been on a plane only two times. Both times were when I traveled to Florida when I was younger. I love flying but I haven't done any traveling since then. I'm for sure looking to fly more in the future.

DanielZ - October 22, 2024, 6:07 pm

The best time to flight is when there is a sunset, beautiful scene.

Fish - October 22, 2024, 6:37 pm

Love flying. I fly a few times a year for leisure

Cap - October 22, 2024, 6:43 pm

I've taken a few trips throughout the country along with going to St. Lucia. I wouldn't say I hate flying, but it's not my preferred method of transport.

sharn - October 23, 2024, 4:28 am

I have taken a few flights and I generally enjoy flying.

The view from above is amazing. It can get a bit annoying with security checks and waiting.

DashPHP - October 23, 2024, 4:34 am

I've flown to Amsterdam and that's about it haha

ahw9n2io8wd9h - October 23, 2024, 6:59 am

Yep, longest flight I've been on was around 4 hours.

Yes many times when i was young, traveled to uae and ksa few times with dad

Casp?r - October 23, 2024, 8:35 am

Yes, plenty of times, nice to escape the miserable British weather.

I had some friends do a vacation in St. Lucia once, they had a wonderful time and the pictures looked beautiful

I agree on the view being great. And also agree on the waiting and security being annoying. Kinda kills the vibes especially on longer flights.

I've been on a plane I think like 5 times in total. Not far flights though thankfully. I did enjoy it. I just got economy and my ass hurt after and I started getting fidgety Yeaaaa I have trouble sitting still in general so long flights are not ideal. Always economy here as well, and the seats are so mid, lol.

Eran - October 23, 2024, 10:39 am

I've flown twice in my life, twice in one week. It was for a music festival. Honestly the check in procedures stressed me out more than the actual flight, I didn't have any fear or anxiety about that at all. Was amazing watching out the window for the first time. We did have some strong turbulences on the way back though.

Snowwy - October 31, 2024, 8:56 am

I have been on a plane plenty of times.

diablospartan - November 1, 2024, 7:06 am

Well i travel from romania to uk 3 times so i make 6 flights .And i find it ok ,not so bad on how i was thinking first time before flying

Hect0r - November 1, 2024, 10:44 am

Personally, I have flown many times, both for national and international trips. I don't mind flying but I'm not crazy about it, it doesn't even scare me, but if I have to choose, I'd rather keep my feet on the ground.

Moooookie - November 1, 2024, 11:42 am

Yes. I used to take the plane to Florida, to spend time with my grandparents when I was younger. Was like an every summer routine. Some summers we would drive down there, and other summers we would fly down there.. but either way we was going to Florida every summer for sometime.

Charlie Sheen - November 1, 2024, 1:15 pm

Too many times. I hate flying.

It's nice being able to get somewhere far away quickly, but I still hate the entire process. I fly out to Florida in 2 weeks for work and I'm really not looking forward to it.

Rionxee - November 1, 2024, 1:26 pm

I fly regularly, during postgrad while I was consulting on the side I was flying a few times a month. I keep status on American Airlines which is always nice. Flying can suck so the best thing to do is always make it as comfortable as possible with lounges and upgraded seats if possible.

?ystem - November 1, 2024, 1:30 pm

I've never been on an airplane before. The opportunity just never presented itself but I doubt I'll ever be on one in my lifetime.

Mikaias - November 1, 2024, 2:20 pm

A couple of times, i was chill asf on the first time.

I have been in a two seater plane, was a cool experience. I have never flew commercially however I have always wanted to.

innocenx_4 - November 8, 2024, 2:39 am its cool and smooth ,i have not witness any drama while flying ..I pray i won't lol

SIM-4716193 - November 8, 2024, 5:06 am

Have been on planes numerous time, mostly for leisure and sometimes for work.
Domestic & international

Earlier, I used to enjoy the flying experience a lot. But ever since I turned 30, I feel I am those grumpy people, who always like to take the aisles seat, sleep during the journey and quickly rush home after deboarding.

thrutl - November 8, 2024, 8:58 am flying is the worst, but I have flown many times, about 20 times for vacation, 2 times for school and mostly I flew around for work, don't even know how many times..

But I hate flying, its the worst. Or the taking of and landing is the worst, just hovering in the sky is okey I guess.. It is kind of boring though.

Eruditaz - November 8, 2024, 9:51 am

I was on a plance and crashed once. That was very hard to go through.

I've been on a passenger plane as a passenger multiple times for vacation.

I've also flown multiple small planes during RAF training. Being the pilot was scary, and fun at the same time.

Mooooookie - November 8, 2024, 4:37 pm

Yes, I used to take the plane often when I was still a child going on summer vacation with my family.. so I got used to taking planes at a young age.

Tyler? - November 8, 2024, 7:26 pm

Only once.

Buddy paid for my girl and I to fly down to Vegas for our birthdays last year. I was nervous, but it went well. Would absolutely do it again.

The Pact - November 8, 2024, 9:07 pm

When I was a kid and teen I did it internationally all the time. But as an adult all I've done is fly domestically.

UltraexTrader - November 10, 2024, 6:24 am

I don't enjoy flying on plane but we gotta do it.

I remember when i was 9 or 10 i used to fly by myself to cali to see family. Was pretty scary lol this was pre 9/11

Apree Team - November 10, 2024, 10:01 am

I've traveled quite a bit - flown internationally several times for both vacations and work
I love it
