Thread: Vans Warped Tour 2025 - Who's going?

Pikachu - October 24, 2024, 10:39 am

Not sure how many of us here are into live music, specifically rock and metal but I'm sure some of you have heard of Warped Tour making a comeback. Presale is happening now and I just scored tickets to the Orlando show. Anybody else going to one of the shows?

Lineup isn't out yet but regardless of who's playing I'm still gonna go and have a blast!

I sadly don't think they're coming to Canada again, I've had a chance to go at one point but I didn't end up going sadly

Pimping - October 24, 2024, 4:38 pm

I didn't even think Vans Warped tour was still a thing hahaha

The closest show for you would probably be DC, however they did mention of this 3 city tour goes well next year, they plan on bringing it back again to even more cities and possibly Canada.

I have genuinely not heard about Warped Tour since 2012.... it really is great to see that it is still around. Good times back in the day at Warped.

Do you ever go to or have you ever been to any other music festivals before?

It technically did end in 2019, they're just making a comeback.

Also, Mayhem fest is coming back

Jinu - October 25, 2024, 9:24 am

I wish to go but not possible for me.

That sucks :(

Are there any big music festivals where you live at all? I've always wanted to attend an overseas festival like Hellfest, Copenhell and Download fest

The closest one to you right now would be the one in DC! But if this tour goes well they did say they will expand to other states/cities

I wish I could go, I've been unemployed for the last few months so it's not on the cards for me.

I'll be starting a new role soon as I've just received an offer, but I'm going to have to give WT a miss this time round unfortunately.

That's understandable. For future reference though if you ever happen to stabilize your income but don't wanna pay the full price of the festival at once they do offer a layaway option for $10 down, that's what I did for this one.

That's good to know, thank you for the insight. I'll check it out!

LeetSpeed - October 25, 2024, 8:33 pm

I did go to one when they toured in Canada a few years back. I had an awesome time there.

sharn - October 26, 2024, 10:17 am

I always wanted to check it out and I think 2025 is the year.

I am excited to discover some new bands.
