Key details on Lil Durk's arrest in alleged m*rder-for-hire plot Quote:Lil Durk was arrested in Broward County, Florida, on October 24, 2024, on m*rder-for-hire charges.

Allegedly plotted to target rapper Quando Rondo in revenge for King Von's death.

In 2022, an attempted hit on Rondo in Los Angeles led to the fatal shooting of his cousin, Lul Pab.

Five OTF affiliates were also charged; prosecutors claim OTF-linked credit cards were used for flights and rentals in the plot.

Prosecutors allege Durk offered "money and music opportunities" to anyone willing to k*ll Rondo.

Durk is held without bond, set to be transferred to California.

An OTF member, "Jam," allegedly cooperated with authorities, wearing a wire for several years.

The accused could face the death penalty if convicted.

Quote:The feud stemmed from a murder that occurred on Nov. 6, 2020, in which "an associate of T.B. shot and killed an OTF rapper named Dayvon Bennett, a.k.a. 'King Von,'" who was close friends with Banks, the Department of Justice said in a press release.

"In response to Bennett's murder, Banks allegedly put a bounty on T.B.'s life," the DOJ said.

Nearly two years later, on Aug. 19, 2022, multiple OTF members allegedly used two vehicles and worked together to "track, stalk and attempt to murder T.B. at a gas station located in Los Angeles," according to the complaint.

"The co-conspirators fired at least 18 rounds at T.B.'s vehicle, striking and killing S.R. --- T.B.'s family member who was traveling with T.B.," the complaint said.

U.S. Attorney Martin Estrada, whose office is prosecuting the case, said such acts of violent gun crime are "devastating" and "callous."

"Mr. Banks is charged with orchestrating a cold-blooded murder that resulted in the death of a rival's family member," Estrada said in a statement. "Not only that, the shooting occurred in the open, at a gas station at a busy intersection, endangering many others in the area. ABC News
