Thread: What's your average expenses per month?

DanielZ - October 26, 2024, 8:48 pm

Not asking for specific amount, what's your "average" expenses per month? Like gas, rent, groceries, fun.

Deany - October 26, 2024, 8:51 pm

Idk it all goes to anime crap anyway

I just reworked my budgeting excel sheet, I'm at about 6,500$ USD. Trying to lower this. Lol

Cooligan - October 26, 2024, 10:36 pm

All the necessities of course, and whatever I may want for my own self that month.

I don't spend crazy amounts each month, trying to create generational wealth out here.

Definitely not something I want to pay a month but I do enjoy my toys. Income wise I'm good to support it but smart me wants to double down lol

DemoTester - October 27, 2024, 8:43 pm

Mine is about $5,500 a month. House, Cars, Utilizies, Gas, Food.

Doug Dimmadome - October 27, 2024, 8:48 pm

A little over $3,000 and almost half of that is my mortgage and about 1/6th of it is my car. Never buy a new car, one of my biggest financial regrets.

Must be nice. I must admit there days where I go to <https://the earth awaits> and see where retiring would be nice.

I make a good amount of solid income a month but yes, pocketing more of that cash would be nice too.

Yes. The value of money compared to dollar or pounds is low.

Pimping - October 28, 2024, 8:08 pm

Less than $1500/m, but I still live at home. Using HF services to cheapen my subscriptions to Spotify/YouTube etc helps.

MFUK - October 29, 2024, 2:38 am

Alone 1.5k
as family 2k

Clue - October 29, 2024, 3:22 am

My monthly fixed bills come to around $1,500. What's remaining is a secret ;)
