Thread: Most unusual item in your room?

sharn - October 28, 2024, 1:38 am

We all tend to keep at least one unusual item in our rooms.
For me, it is a gas mask I bought at a flea market.

What is the most unusual item in your room?

Jinu - October 28, 2024, 1:39 am

A gas mask. That's definitely unique! For me, it would have to be a vintage typewriter I found at an antique store. It doesn't work perfectly, but it adds some charm and makes a cool decor piece. There's something fun about having those little oddities around.

Eh I don't have anything unusual in mine lol

Mr_Kh4os - October 29, 2024, 11:10 am

I have heard great things about salt lamps. Do you think it actually helps or is it just a nice bonus for the vibe?

I guess it depends what you believe in, I go by energy/vibe I think it helps keep off negative energy ?.

That's honestly pretty cool that you have a telescope in your room! Are you a big fan of space and space exploration?

Nettspend - October 30, 2024, 9:22 pm

Honestly maybe the chunky doll I have. And I hate that little fucker lol

SIM-3257834 - October 30, 2024, 9:49 pm

Level 4 plates with a plate carrier, a closet filled with what the news media would describe as arsenal.

Well, it's still pretty good that you got it for a decent price! Looking at the stars and space has always interested me.
