Thread: My CrackShack \(Bytes if you find bobble head in this mess\)

MFUK - October 30, 2024, 2:53 am

Just rate my crack shack worth of workshop room (Pair bedroom in my overpaid flat)

If you have any improvements that I should add let me know
(Other than cleaning it it is a work in progress)

Starting from the back:

The white camera is a cheap Amazon buy (custom firmware to enable RTS instead of streaming to China).

On the desk, there's a photo booth setup for Etsy photos.

The CR10 Smart has been repurposed into a pick-and-place machine.

The two white devices are resin cleaning and curing stations for my 3 resin printers.

There's a Bambulabs X1C, and below that, the Cricut machine.

The other grow tent houses resin printers, including 2x HALOT-ONE and 1x Saturn 3 Ultra, with about 4 bottles of resin.

The extraction fan directs all those toxic fumes straight out the window.

I'm not labeling half of this, but both black cabinets are filled with materials, tools, and parts for all my machines, including the CNC machine (wires everywhere!). There's also an inkjet printer for t-shirt designs and sticker ideas.

If this room doesn't scream ADHD and attention deficit, I don't know what does!"

I eventually wanna get a resin printer. Right now I have an elegoo neptune 3 pro filament printer. Also bobble head, is it the fallout character on top of the book shelf? Lol

Haha lol yeah it is was from fallout 4 pre order

I send you your bytes now

Resin printers are cool just make sure you can deal with the fumes and mess first before you have a bad time

Sometimes chaotic mess is okay because you know where everything is still!

I found bobble head in the top right of 2nd pic btw.

I say the same thing to my wife. She has none of it lmao.

Ah thank you. I skimmed the previous replies and must have missed someone else mentioning it aha.

Thank you!
