Thread: New Years Bash Lottery

Aeowulf - November 1, 2024, 6:20 am

I just put up 2500 5000 bytes for someone to win in the lottery, and that number will only grow as more people buy in.

It's now up to over 10,000 bytes and counting!

Posting a thread here as a lot of people don't see them anymore.

EDIT: Due to preparations for the server move, the lotteries were wiped. Bytes were refunded. In lieu of this, I had to create a new one and we end a little after New Years. That said, I also doubled the starting pot and dropped 5000 bytes so the starting ante matched what was in there.

Yanix - November 1, 2024, 6:21 am

Okay will buy my entry and hoping for the best as always.

Bastille - November 1, 2024, 8:18 am

I'm hoping so!

That's why I put in a couple thousand to start and made a post. I want to see how big we can get it!

Jamika - November 3, 2024, 7:06 am

The problem is that i never ever won any lottery with big cash or big period of time, and for this as both ? My percent is null

I can already see some giveaways and fun stuff to earn free bytes during holidays so people will dump in the lottery for sure.

Pimping - November 3, 2024, 7:34 pm

Going buy some tickets later

The pot should be a decent size by the end of December. Nice start to the new years for one lucky person.

Omni wiped the data for lottos yesterday. Part of the pruning and preparation for the HF server move. I assume anyone that put bytes towards the couple of active lottos at the time had them refunded.

Yeah it isn't logged in bytes history as far as I can tell, but I'm sure a refund was forced on the couple of lottos active at the time and prior to him wiping all lotto data.

It was indeed wiped. Great plan, bad timing. I'm going to have to figure some other way to do something like this.

Just start it up again and link the new one. EzPz. You shouldn't have any issue this time around I imagine. Not like he has to wipe it all again haha.

I was thinking it would get wiped again to move but I realize it was just the historical lotteries. I have created a new one and edited the post.
