Not all encompassing, but covers most of the chains that matter right now.

Keep it strong; soon the remaining ones that are at a loss will become profitable.
I wish you best of luck in following months.

Amazing seeing SUI performing so well this cycle. I know you are excited about seeing some positive movement. Impressive that it has outperformed so many coins in the YTD %. Curious to know if you have ever looked at the hand held gaming device that SUI has on preorder, the SuiPlay0X1?

Overall I have most of my portfolio spanning between ADA, SOL, and ETH. I'm looking to pull out in the next 30 days and redistribute assets/liquidity into something else that could be more stable. I may not touch my Solana or Ethereum at all this cycle, and just keep holding. I'd be more inclined to sell my Ethereum and Cardano holdings before Solana. I'll more than likely ending up holding Solana and see if it gets an insane pump into the $300 range this cycle, that would be cool. Lots to think about on my end, but congrats on the SUI performance.

I'm pre-order #19

The device is manufactured by a company named Ayaneo and is running an OS and software created by Playtron. Ayaneo has a strong track record, Playtron are newer from what I can tell. Along with being able to tap into the Gaming on Sui ecosystem, it will also be able to tap into platforms like Steam and Epic. Web3 gaming doesn't have a big appeal to me, but I play games on Steam all of the time.

Pre-orders also have a soulbound NFT assigned to each buyer's wallet. Holding this NFT is going to whitelist you for a series of upcoming airdrops. From the teams that have teased that they're participating in the airdrops, they should cover the entire price of the device and more. The way I see it, you're getting paid to receive a free and capable handheld gaming device, you just need to be ok waiting until mid to late 2025.

I'm not surprised you got in on it as early as you did. You've been advocating for SUI for what seems like the beginning. I'm thinking about pre-ordering one too, and I saw on a blog about the pre-order for the soul-bound non-fungible token (NFT). Do I need to purchase a pre-order to see what number in the line I'm in?

Yes. I imagine you can probably find the contract associated with the NFT minting and see what the count is at, but I'm unsure where to look for that. Otherwise, you'll see your number after placing an order.

There are two NFTs, Mythic and Exalted. Mythic went to the first 1k or 1.5k or 2k devices sold, idk the actual number, it moved a bit due to issues. Now, everyone up until pre-order number 10k gets an Exalted NFT. Holders of both Mythic and Exalted NFTs gain access to the incentives mentioned before. We're still well within the 10k limit, think orders are somewhere between 3k-5k.

Something I'll be looking into soon. Thanks for all the info

My returns are pretty shit, invested all into XMR. Probably a huge mistake to invest since it's not going up anytime soon

The smile you must have on your face right now over Sui going over $3. Excellent. Happy for your success story. Hope it continues.

Now that Trump is President, maybe we can all get back to making serious money again. I was so good in 2020.

Indeed. I sold about 25% of my holdings (100% of memecoins and weak alts, 20% of my SUI) last night just to lock something in, but I'm hopeful crypto has a strong 4 years ahead of it.

UltraexTrader - November 11, 2024, 12:30 pm

It's crazy to think that BTC is less than 4% from being 90K. God we live in crazy times.
