Thread: Anyone else playing Idle Clans - Sorta like Idle Runescape

Anima - November 11, 2024, 1:24 am

I started playing Idle clans a few weeks ago, it's been quite fun so far & I'm sure there's a few people on here that would enjoy it. It's just like an Idle version of runescape, set your character up doing a skill and then you can leave it for 12 hours.

It doesn't feel P2W (to me at least), there are some things you can buy to benefit you but they're also available within the player market for in game gold, some bosses & raids as well. The community is fairly small I think, players seem to peak around 700 (based on steamdb) but it's also available on mobile.

Overall, I think it's a nice time killer especially if you don't have a lot of time to play games. Game is about a year and a half old, and only has 1 developer. If anyone starts playing, give me a shout and I'd be happy to help you out.

For those who are interested: You can have 3 accounts. I find it's quite helpful to have 2 alts to get things for my main, certainly helps progress faster.

I've been loving it, started playing it the day I saw your post.

It's pretty chill, I would always bot RuneScape, so this is right up my ally.
My username is Flamel

Ty for sharing.

No worries dude! Glad you're enjoying it. I've got 3 accounts. Finally at a point where I can do raids on my main while my 2 alts farm gold for me! Have you joined a clan yet?

I made my own clan for my 3 accounts xD I'm still grinding out some stats and resources, but ya its been a great time killer.

Might have to check it out. Idle clans is nice because you don't need to have it open, but always good to have a few different games to play! Thanks for sharing
