Thread: Your thoughts on the Tyson fight

Nettspend - November 16, 2024, 2:12 am

Obviously we're all disappointed on the performance and the outcome.

What are your thoughts on the whole fight?

Was it rigged?

How much did Netflix lose?

These are thoughts and theories id like to see!

What are your thoughts on the whole fight?

Expected, nothing else. Still thought that Mike would land a few more heavy hitter.

Was it rigged?

Nah, but why would Mike go all in if he still gets the bag. Obviously it was a fight for money, but Tyson has nothing to prove anymore.

How much did Netflix lose?

Hopefully millions.

One in 50s fighting one in 26s , this was over before it starts

Bad sanction all in all, and terrible fight.
It was bad from the start unfortunately the disappoint man :/ Tyson will always be a legend

Hect0r - November 16, 2024, 2:53 am

Honestly I think the fight wasn't rigged, of course, it was a bit disappointing but if you think that Mike Tyson is almost 60 years old you shouldn't have expected more, I have a deep respect for him who even after years of inactivity got back into the game having problems with knees etc, but the same thing goes for Paul who showed a lot of respect for Tyson acknowledging that he had been one of the best Boxers of history.Anyway for me, Mike Tyson will forever be the best, a legend!

That guy allegedly raped one of Bill Cosby's daughters and Bill Cosby helped him cover it up on the condition he went and got counselling. ?

Red Pill Binary - November 16, 2024, 3:23 am

It was the worst and the biggest disappointment prearranged fight in decades.
Thye both holding back to win by vote.
I'm glad I slept well and took a peek at the highlights...and even those were terrible.

Made no sense from the beginning

Paul played defensive the first two rounds in hopes Tyson would become fatigued. Pretty much if he could get beyond two, he was going to win simply because of stamina and endurance - and that was his game plan.

Rigged? I kept seeing posts online prior to the fight suggesting that it was scripted, however I've yet to see a script that actually lined up with the event.

How would Netflix lost? They had to of ensured their profit with all the product placement jamesbrown - November 16, 2024, 10:31 am jake has been sipping the forbidden capri sun for years now, eating that tren bologna sandwich if you know what i mean Xd

yes i think its rigged if one side takes preformance enhancing drugs

i remember jake paul being a disney channel twinkie princess now hes A BIGG MANN

Thats what i thought too , he let him use all his energy first and hope he got tired later

Mike is still the legend forever!

DashPHP - November 16, 2024, 11:04 am

Not rigged. It was so obvious Jake was going to Winn. Age factor alone is significant

Kaleb - November 16, 2024, 11:46 am

I don't think it was rigged in that the outcome was predetermined.

I think Jake Paul is smarter than most people would want to give him credit for. He's fully aware that if he knocked out a 58 year old Mike Tyson cold it would give him 0 points.

Now the narrative? "Well at least Mike Tyson survived and showed he can still hang in there".

No, he couldn't. Jake Paul could've easily finished the fight and clearly made a choice not to, every time he'd get a combo off that would hurt Mike he'd circle away and let Mike recover, he absolutely could've put it on him and knocked him out but that would've been horrible optics.

0/10, boxing is a joke of a sport once again, absolutely awful reffing and judging in the Katie Taylor fight as well, nobody will respect boxing as a sport because every single time they have a big event like this there's bullshit.

I'm glad I didn't wait up to watch it live. Watched it this afternoon, was disappointed tbh. Fair play to all involved though. Simply profit.

F4tDoinkz - November 16, 2024, 2:40 pm

It was unsanctioned fighting. Under all Jake rules with Jake judges. I'm sorry it was rigged. If not it still proves nothing. Jake fights retired fighters. He got beat by a real boxer.
