Thread: HILTON / HAMPTON FRIENDS AND FAMILY RATE

Hotelplug - November 16, 2024, 7:41 am

IM OFFERING Friends and family rates for any Hilton or Hampton brand hotels lifetime purchase. My family owns a lot of hilton / Hampton hotels. I work and manage at one and basically can add anyone under me. I'm also offering team member rate but with that I'm being cautious as that can come back to me and would only sell it to trustworthy individuals who wouldn't fuck up the rooms there staying at or chargeback on the hotel. Only way I would sell that to someone is I deem ur truth worthy. With family and friends rate you'll get rates for around 50-75$ a night which are usually $200+ plus tax usually a night. You can book as many nights as you want as long as the hotel has it available. With team member you get rooms for $35/45 a night. Free parking, %50 if they have a bar or restaurant or inside the hotel you get %50 on the bill and room service also. There's a bunch of other amenities with the team member rate.

I'm willing to offer one vouch copy for the family and friends rate.

Hey buddy just saying anyone who works at the Hampton hotels or just regular employees they are entitled to the same family benefits. We just secured our hotel in NC just tonight lmao. This could directly affect your employment say the person messes up the room. So just bear caution to strangers online. I don't think you need to add the "my family owns the hotels" part. It's just the internet. This benefit is well known for everyone having it who's employed Congrats and GL :)

the thing is I can add people under the team member rate instead of just the friends and family rate. Team member rate gives you rates for 35-$45 a night all the time while family and friends rate is like on average $80-100 a night. Plus with team member rate you get %50 of restaurants and bars inside the hotel if they have one. Also other amenities
