What's a dream you've had since childhood that you still think about?

I had a dream when i was younger that i was walking through this hotel alone and i wasn't really afraid. I had this dream multiple times. I've never see this hotel before in real life. but i can picture it in my head. It wasn't like a typical hotel like Hilton or Marriot. Older with wood floors and marble stairs. There is an elevator but i never went into it in my dreams. I still have this dream but very rarely and i still think about it when i travel for work and stay at hotels.
