Thread: How do I determine what's legal and what's not legal justAgirl - November 28, 2024, 7:21 am

How do I tell what I can get in trouble for on here? There has to be some fuz monitoring this place, I'm just looking for advice or help with content selling and hopefully I can help some people out too

Some topics are not allowed, take a look at the Help Docs, and check if there is a pinned thread in sections, such as :

- Stress Testing section : <https://hackforums.net/forumdisplay.php?fid=440>
- > Pinned thread of this section : <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6275175>

In case you have a doubt, feel free to ask, there are Staff and Mentors for this

Read the rules and help doc. You will find all information there.

If you still need help. Be specific about what you intend to do or your content.

Just use your judgement and moral compass.

diablospartan - November 29, 2024, 12:10 am

Well if you follow the rules you should be fine ,also you need to use your judgement sometimes

If it can get you in trouble talking to a cop, I wouldn't talk about it here man. Admitting guilt to anything on the internet is a world class idiot move.

Say it, forget it; write it, regret it.
