All I will say is that I and a few others can corroborate the orb sightings over last 50 nights & it seems they are popping up in many places. This Capitol photo is newer and not widely confirmed, but figured I'd share.

Separate sighting footage:

Here's a video, got plenty like this one. Well, almost half a dozen sightings of this fleet formation, and many more of non-formation sightings too.

Do you have a source on that?

These are not Starlinks if that's what you mean.

ah, yeah I don't think these ones are starlinks because i've seen those and they are far smaller and higher up than these things.

But - funny story lol. My fiance & her friend came running in, hollering about aliens, but it was just a line of like 12 starlinks in orbit. They had never heard of it so they just assumed it was otherworldly.

I'll try to transfer more of the videos from my phone to PC later, have a bunch that are very odd.

I agree, but these stars will hover for ages and then poof ? or drift away after a while.

They are weird
