What is DeNet?

DeNet is a DePIN (Decentralized Physical Infrastructure Network) storage layer that brings tokenized real-world asset (RWA) capacity to decentralized data systems. Its revolutionary Watcher Node feature transforms everyday smartphones into digital guardians, enhancing data security and paving the way for a decentralized future.

What is a Watcher Node?

The Watcher Node is a mobile device feature within the DeNet Storage app, enabling users to participate in securing a decentralized storage network. By turning on the Watcher Node, smartphone users contribute to verifying the integrity of stored data, ensuring its availability and reliability.

How it Works:

Your smartphone checks every piece of data in the network to ensure it meets security standards. The verification process can run automatically or manually based on your preference. Over 100,000 users trust DeNet Storage as the leading Web3 storage solution. By joining the Watcher Node system, you help protect data while earning rewards for your contributions.

Not quite sure how I feel on this one... so in short, people will earn money for their phones constantly scanning and reporting information?

Yeah, that's a fair one. I will say that you have to turn it on for it to capture and it will only run for 30 min I tend to use it when I'm walking the dogs. They claim that it only captures the Db levels or something to that effect. My dogs love it because I am walking them to loads of new areas to unlock more of the airdrop lol
