so i guess using tor with limited permissions makes you look very close to a thin bot ? (probably also had my ip collide with a spammers or replying some things); luckily my account passed review

i plan to start writing dope some tutorials or reading outline for some cool shit i've been studying (been out of the scene for a few years. got a few more certs between now an than. done lots of recent reading on business law, taxes, and, culture from small business to corporate. lots of dabbling with systems architecture, redundancy, and, clusters) hopefully i can make some insightful posts soon.

Hello, welcome (back) to HF

Yeah there is a bot protection that can be triggered sometimes, it's always nice to have some new tutorials on HF, be careful tho regarding the topics, some things are not allowed to be discussed such as financial and identity fraud, don't forget to read the Help Docs to be aware of those topics.

Hope to see you around, enjoy your stay !
