Thread: Look up at the sky tonight.

Hackers - December 14, 2024, 11:55 am

As I have said in a few places, there have been mysterious orbs of light traveling in ways that public and expected aircraft cannot move. They exhibit superior forms of flight. Accompanying these types of sightings are fleets of drones, many the size of large SUVs or trucks. They move in ways that are not aligned with residential drones, and more importantly they arrive as fleets over our neighborhoods.

This has been happening in several areas in the USA for months now, but for many others long before too.

There are sightings, photos, and videos circulating the internet that I have seen with my own two eyes, as has my fiancé @Tayla@, my neighbors, my friends, and family.

We have seen lights that can hover for hours, and warp away with instantaneous acceleration. We have seen erratic movements, formations in the skies, perfectly still hovering ability for long periods of time with alarming brightness, color shifting, and more - followed by a departure of the orbs flying away.

There are mechanical drones that come in fleets and it's unclear if those are the government, or part of the orbs, or if there are two factions/organizations/etc. The drones don't match FAA regulation, but the biggest part is that they move eerily slow, hover above homes, appear to be able to evade if they want, and move in sync with each other.

This is happening across many US states, not just the 4 reported states. I encourage everyone to look up. The best time is sunset onwards, but really just observe. Not everything is a UAS/UAP. Look for any anomalous movement, patterns of low flying vehicles, and anything you might deem different. There are sightings in many countries, but some coincidences seem to be that they may come from waters, they move together, you will probably see military vehicles following them at times if you are in a hot spot, and once you see them ... You will 100% know what I mean.

Thanks, stay vigilant, safe, and remember that we should all be excited for what is ahead. I can't explain to you fully what this is, but I can tell you that they exhibit every single sign of superior technology, and a breakthrough for mankind in how we approach flight, energy use, and really - physics & gravity itself. I know it sounds insane, but I can assure you that whatever we are seeing out here is not normal. The drone fleets can be explained, but those themselves are in fact very weird and concerning - they appear to be patrolling or surveying, or protecting or doing something nightly in many of our areas here in US and other places - but their tech itself doesn't appear to be abnormal. They are just SUV sized drones that fly and hover for hours, so it's strange but not impossible to think.

It's the orbs that truly show abilities we should be happy to see having been accomplished and used.

For the drones part in NJ at least it is for sure government related. If they were adversaries they would have been shot down by now. The states are pissed because the government isn't supposed to be testing near heavily populated areas. They are also supposed to inform state governments which they have not.

Yeah, but those same drones are showing up in multiple states. It's a lot larger than just NJ

Yeah this is a great event, we saw so many shooting stars last night. They are crazy - you can actually see the tail and the smoke or cloud trail it leaves behind, and there are many.

It's a great time to go outside and look up into the sky just in general.

I don't think so - From what I saw, similar drones and orbs have shown up near Moscow, other parts, as well as Siberia

I think it's possible we are all dealing with something together. But of course whoever it is, if they deployed these all across the planet then they would also deploy it on their home soil I'm guessing.

I have been looking into these orbs for a while now and I'm actually kinda scared cause no one knows what it is. Is it Aliens? Is it bioenvironmental type terrorism? There is so many possibilities but WHAT ARE THEY

I really wish someone would look at them with a telescope or something and get this figured out

Considering there is close to two trillion galaxy's in the known universe with billions of planets in each one, I wouldn't doubt it's some type of advanced beings who can generate there own gravity and modify it which distorts time also. To think humans are the smartest things out there is laughable.

Are they aliens or chinese spy drones?

Hackers - December 15, 2024, 7:56 am

I want to mention again that there is a huge difference between the orbs, and the drones being reported.

Orbs:

- Can zip across the sky at what feels like light speed, warping. Accelerating from 0mph to speeds we cannot replicate, in 0 seconds. Going from that full speed to a complete stop, with 0 deceleration time. Complete 90, 180, 360 directional turns at an exact center turn radius - or in other words, perpendicular / square angle movements which would completely destroy any physical aircraft we have with public technology.

Drones:

- Oddly arriving in fleets, very noticeable, appear to be capable of both hover and roaming as well as faster glide modes, and are extremely large like SUVs. Appearing over many neighborhoods, including mine.

I encourage everyone to look up.
Yesterday our neighborhood saw this:

- A stream of black clouds came across our area, maybe 3-4 houses wide
- The rest of the sky was perfectly baby blue, without a cloud in sight
- Inside of the stream of dark clouds appeared to be small sources of light. At first a few of us thought that it was just light breaking through, but we quickly noticed that the brighter spots inside of the dark clouds were moving with the cloud itself.
- Then we noticed that one brighter spot moved faster, and then slower than the dark cloud itself.
- Then the brighter spot moved to the side of the dark cloud. We watched as a tiny spec of bright white left the cloud stream and zipped across the blue sky at an insane speed, and zig zagged at 1 point.

About 15 minutes later:

- We noticed a small white/light grey cloud moving across the sky, blowing in a different direction from the black cloud stream. It moved towards the stream, but further above it.
- This cloud then dissipated and a drone looking UFO thing came out of the cloud.
- The UFO thing then flew into the blue sky, clear as day, off into the distance.
- It had a crimson/red ball and two black wings. It could be compared to a disc, and yeah, ready to take the hit here but I don't know what to say to you guys. My fiancé and I and a neighbor all stood there like dumbies as we watched.

It looked like this:

-O-

or --O--

It displayed anomalous movement.

I've been talking about this for 2 months because for 2 months we've been seeing orbs, and patrolling drones. The MSM is catching up, but we are not alone and this is a phenomenon seen around the world.

Remember to look up and observe. There are things you will notice if you care to look. Stay safe, vigilant, and remember to remain optimistic and excited for what is to come.

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. The OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley

I am bumping this because it relates to some recent stories out of War.gov/UFO/ releases.

Specifically, bright lights in the sky followed by a metallic object appearing and demonstrating anomalous movement and the idea of these being able to materialize out of thin air, for lack of better knowledge.

Speilberg recently came out and said that he can't wait for people to realize that all of his movies have been true, and based on real events.

They say the new disclosure film contains multiple real video clips with rumors about Roswell recovery site, as well as a possible Nixon and Jack Gleason visit (Gleason allegedly was taken to an airforce base without other officials by Richard Nixon - his friend & also US President - to see small alien creatures in glass cases). Both of these clips are in the film trailers, but whether or not they are real or cosplay is yet to be known.

I don't think we have any evidence that they are aliens right now, or at least I don't have any proof or know of any.

What I can say is that the orbs are able to maneuver and travel better than any jet or spaceship or missile in use by the US, RU, CN, or other top militaries.

Orbs can run circles around a F16 in a dogfight, and catch an F35, and do this without breaking the sound barrier. They can go thousands of kilometers per hour, and then come to a complete stop immediately, with 0 delay. They can then do a complete reversal of direction, instantaneously, going thousands of kilometers per hour in speed with 0 delay.

Any physicist can tell you that for the above to be true, there is a significantly more powerful energy & propulsion system in use. That's all I have evidence of - no aliens though. But either way, things will change. Old energy systems and technology is more like primitive cave tooling compared to this new stuff.
