Thread: 600 Reasons Why You Should UPGRADE Your HF Account

Mooooookie - December 16, 2024, 2:04 am

Are you a regular member, and have thought about upgrading to Leet.. but have never followed thru with the decision? Well, now is a better time then any to go ahead and upgrade.. as we have a 250,000 Bytes Contest being held, which is only available for upgraded members.

250k Bytes is valued at around $600.. that's 600 reasons why now is a great time for you to go ahead and make the move and upgrade. On top of just being able to participate in the contest, you will get access to additional features and perks that aren't available to you as a regular member.

I'm pretty sure winning $600 would make anyone's Christmas a little brighter.. no more time wasting, go upgrade!

Don't delay, upgrade now today!

Miles Teller - December 16, 2024, 6:09 am

Another giveaway? Hell yeah man thanks - keep it up

Miracula - December 16, 2024, 8:14 am

Who wouldn't want that for Christmas? Your contests are really crazy. Good luck to everyone participating and thank you OP!

On the other hand, I don't have the money for an upgrade right now, but I will become leet for sure in the future, the community here is so great.

Foxy Proxies Ltd - December 16, 2024, 8:46 am

Yeah thats a nice christmas present - a fat ass bag of bytes.

Hackers - December 16, 2024, 9:12 am

Definitely worth it too for the marketplace, and maybe just getting to know people in general.

If your funds aren't good at the moment, you do know you can upgrade using bytes as well.. right? Get your bytes up by being active on the forum, then use the on-site games to try and hustle up enough bytes for an upgrade. I've seen users do it.. have only a couple hundred bytes, and gambled their way up to a few thousand. Best thing about it is there are multiple different games you can play, you're not forced to only playing one. Good luck. :)

Have you won any of them yet since I've been doing them? If not, now is a better time then any to win.. I believe it's my biggest contest to-date.

I first joined HF nearly a decade ago. After years I have come back to it and it doesn't feel alien despite the changes and members leaving or joining.

Everytime there's something going on and there's always an incentive here for being active. Whether selling services, winning contests, getting bytes (which wasn't here back in the day), learning new tricks or talking to cool people with different walks of life.

It starts to get a bit nostalgic when I think about it. Lol

You're right, there's a little bit of everything available while here. I can only imagine what it was like when this place was at it's peak. Would of loved to see what that was like, and experience it for myself. Even just playing the on-site games, is enjoyable for me. No other forum that I'm a part of has games, nor bytes.. so for those two things alone, makes HF a great place. Really hope Omni can get things to turn around as far as getting more users on the site.. while forums are on the decline, they're still here and we gotta make the best out of them while they're still available.
