

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Whats the one scent that instantly reminds you of winter?

Prawnster - December 20, 2024, 11:01 am

For me, it's the typical cinnamon smell, my Mrs always puts out candles around Christmas with that scent and my family has a similar strategy it seems because I feel like I smell it EVERYWHERE from like November-Jan 1st.

Deany - December 20, 2024, 11:13 am

Cinnamon or ginger yeah you right

Miles Teller - December 20, 2024, 11:13 am

I agree with you on Cinnamon. That or pine always makes me think of Christmas

Prawnster - December 21, 2024, 12:45 am

(Dec 20, 2024 12:13 PM)Deany Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Cinnamon or ginger yeah you right
Ahh yeah ginger as well, can't forget the ginger! :)

(Dec 20, 2024 12:13 PM)Miles Teller Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I agree with you on Cinnamon. That or pine always makes me think of Christmas
Pine too! Smell of the fresh christmas tree fillin the house is unmatched haha.

Pimping - December 21, 2024, 1:28 am

Gotta go with peppermint and gingerbread
everytime i smell gingerbread cookies it reminds me of christmas

Beherit - December 21, 2024, 1:46 am

Baking cookies in the oven for sure.

BlackRock - December 21, 2024, 2:34 am

Cinnamon, mulled wine :D

Yin Yang - December 21, 2024, 2:43 am

Pine or cinnamon for sure

RangoWorld - December 21, 2024, 2:53 am

Pine and Almonds weirdly enough. I like eating almonds.

Prawnster - December 21, 2024, 8:15 am

(Dec 21, 2024 03:53 AM)RangoWorld Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Pine and Almonds weirdly enough. I like eating almonds.

Almonds is an interesting one for sure since normally they are like a year-round sorta snack!

Do you have like a specific food that you make with almonds or do you just eat the almonds by themselves?

blackrose_x0x0 - December 21, 2024, 8:20 am

The smell of pine. Whether it's actually being out on a nature walk, skiing, etc... or pine scented candles. It always reminds me of winter.

Prawnster - December 21, 2024, 8:25 am

(Dec 21, 2024 09:20 AM)Bloodbyte Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The smell of pine. Whether it's actually being out on a nature walk, skiing, etc... or pine scented candles. It always reminds me of winter.

Yeah the smell always brings me back to my grandparent's house when they had a fresh Christmas tree all setup & decorated!

Prepper - December 21, 2024, 9:20 am

Apple cinnamon scents for me.

Bashe - December 21, 2024, 9:20 am

The smell of some nice cool mint 6mg Zyns.

sharn - December 21, 2024, 9:50 am

The scent of cinnamon instantly makes me think of winter evenings.

Prawnster - December 22, 2024, 10:15 am

(Dec 21, 2024 10:20 AM)Prepper Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Apple cinnamon scents for me.

Ahh yeah the apple cinnamon is a classic for sure.

DanielZ - December 22, 2024, 6:13 pm

Looks like everyone went with cinnamon

Charlie Sheen - December 22, 2024, 7:26 pm

Christmas Tree

Prawnster - December 23, 2024, 8:33 am

(Dec 22, 2024 07:13 PM)DanielZ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Looks like everyone went with cinnamon

Yeah, I mean its definitely an undisputed classic.

(Dec 22, 2024 08:26 PM)Charlie Sheen Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Christmas Tree

Christmas tree smells great!

Michael - December 23, 2024, 9:12 am

Maybe cookies and hot chocolate.

Prawnster - December 23, 2024, 9:55 am

(Dec 23, 2024 10:12 AM)Michael Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Maybe cookies and hot chocolate.

Yeah that can be a very comforting scent for sure, the smell of freshly baked cookies is top tier!

DanielZ - December 23, 2024, 1:23 pm

(Dec 23, 2024 10:12 AM)Michael Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Maybe cookies and hot chocolate.

cookies and milk for Santa ?

Prawnster - December 24, 2024, 6:13 pm

(Dec 23, 2024 02:23 PM)DanielZ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) cookies and milk for Santa ?

Milk & cookies is a shout haha.