Easy! You can get bytes by just participating on the forum. The more you're active, the more bytes you will earn. Creating new threads, and replying to others posts will get you bytes. You can also play some of the forum games, and win/lose bytes with that. My advice would be to upgrade your account, and you can then participate in the 250,000k bytes contest.. Drawing is on Christmas.. you still have some time.

Also if you upgrade you will get more bytes for posts and threads that you make.

each time I hit a small decent number from posting, gambling is the next step?

Bites you get from dogs or bats or spider (if you like being a Spiderman).

Bytes you get by posting posts and threads. Also by gambling - which I don't recommend.
