Thread: What time are you waking up tomorrow?

Christmas is almost here. Wondering what time everyone plans on waking up?

We will probably get up around 7 or 8 and wake up the kids, let them open presents then get ready to head to my Dad's.

Back when I was a kid we would stay up all night. Usually I would be the only one able to stay awake all night and we would have a deal of 5 or 6 to wake up and open presents.

Probably around 5am or so, I'm going to try and catch Santa before he scoots back up that chimney.

Not sure of the exact hour. It just depends what time tonight the kids go to bed and then how early they decide to wake up.

I'll be up early in the morning.. around 7am. This is the normal time that I'm up, not just because it's the holiday. I remember waking my parents up 6am to get up and open presents.... they of course, wasn't having it and made me and my sister wait until like 8am.

Probably around 10 a.m. honestly.

Ours is 10:00 am. We just had a steak dinner. We didn't do anything special.
