King Kong 2005, the scene with insects is great

They are not movies but sometimes it is comforting and funny to watch some History documentaries on YouTube about how breakfasts, cereals, and hamburger chains were created. That section that only talks about how fast food or grocery chains were born. I find it nice to eat. ?

Most likely Pulp Fiction and Snatch. I could rewatch these movies over and over again and not get bored.

I think this will always be Friends for me. Will & Grace would be on the same level. Friends is chill and Will & Grace is a bit raunchier, so it just depends on my mood.
