Hello hackers!

so i face some problems as im google dorking by sqling

i parsh my dorks,vulns,injects etc,and when i dump the results are very very trashy like random generate passwords,codes,not even a lot of real passwords.

i am making my keywords using a technique making millions of keywords,edit them,made my dorks,and my page parameters to target shopping for example.

any advices that will help?,im really lost and dissapointed a bit because i have been practising for months to generate great results!

thanks a lot to everyone that contributes!

You "parsh" your dorks? What do you mean by this and you do know what dorking is right... it sounds like you are getting confused on what you are meant to find.

parshing meaning,search the dorks for urls with a tool thats made for this job,searching,checking for vulns.injects and then dumping

They are trashy due to the fact that many websites have implemented security measures to prevent SQL injection and other types of attacks, making it more difficult.

Some possible tools or techniques to generate keywords and dorks that would be better might include

Keyword generators or password crackers.

Google dorking tools or vulnerability scanners.

SQLMap or Burp Suite.

Python or JavaScript, to create algorithms for generating keywords and dorks.
