Thread: Christmas award! - Will I be able to achieve it?

Spam Assassin - December 28, 2024, 10:49 am

I am at 66% and there is only 3 days left to say goodbye. Just wondering if I'll be able to hit that mark, as I am not sure how much I have achieved already, like it shows only the percentage and not the x amount of threads and z amount of posts so I am really confused about which I should have been setting a target on.

It would be a very bad ending if I loose at just 95% and the new year hit in and I loose the award. Still I have not given my hundred percent so I might give it a little bit push from my side.

Wish me luck if I'm to get it.

Deany - December 28, 2024, 10:51 am

Lol yes many people got it in like a day

Spam Assassin - December 28, 2024, 10:52 am

Do I need 25 Threads + 250 posts or just any one of it. I am a bit confused at that part!

Need both of them

I can understand the 25 threads but 250 posts in a day is a little too much isn't it. It had been like two weeks and I am still unable to get 250 posts.

Ye, always best to get it early . Becomes harder much later imo

Yea seems like it. As it's only 3 days left to end I'm feeling too stressed now. Maybe 250 posts is not harder for someone who is a lounge head but for me, it's different. I feel difficult to interact with every thread posted unless I am able to convince myself that I am known to that topic. But anyways I'll try my best.

Seems same as mine. I know I have made quite some posts but threads needs to be done. Idk if there is a way to check how many threads / posts you made this month. Like a status page!

Posts is gonna be difficult I think but if you look at the "My threads" tab and back date them from december and count you should be able to tell those easily

Ohh, thanks for the idea. I'll check how many I did in this month. Atleast I'll have a tab on the threads now.

I think I am done with the threads, maybe, I am not sure but I think it's done. I'll target the posts!

Kinda lame that all the rewards are either paid or require monotonous tasks like making repeated Lodge threads or playing text gambling games. Been posting on this site for damn near a decade, have more posts than a lot of people, never saw any chance of getting one of these 'awards' I guess I don't really need them anyway.

How many threads have you made in the span of 10 days? 250 post would not be that hard so for sure you will make it before the end date.

Idk in 10 days made around 15-16 threads but in this whole month maybe 25-26. What is counted the Dec month or just past 10 days!

Well upgrading can get you Uber award. And the one I have is already not sold anymore but I made a deal with omni together to get one by default.

I guess that the starting point is on 17th when Omni post a thread about it. I have some problem with counting of threads as well before I am able to got for my account. I just continue on making more threads and keep on posting 'til I got the award for my account. ?

Yes that seem to be the case as I already hit over 25 threads this month but it doesn't seem that it's moving the % up so I guess I'll need abit more threads.

If it's OBVIOUSLY ChatGPT Omni may delete stuff like that and they won't get the bytes or get the award early. But with the green pumpkin award there were like thirty threads saying "Have you got the green pumpkin award? ?

But also to say, it's Omni who gave the target so he wouldn't delete them. Having 250 posts in 10-14 days is nuts (atleast for me) and 25 threads.

Haha, same with me. After some hours we fail to do what needs be done or what we target as we got IRL lives to deal with as well. The good old geeky days sitting at the PC playing modern warfare 2 and staying online over teamspeak! Those days are gone and teamspeak is now replaced with discord. What a shame!

Yea correct. I used to bunk school and sit on the couch playing games and then get grounded because I was not out playing and being a lazy ass kid. As for your goals, how many posts/threads do you think you have made. J checked the award winners and there are only a handful who won this award. Like not everyone was able tooN

I've made 16 threads, but the problem is the posts. It's hard for me to comment on each one, especially since many I don't even know what they're about.?

Check the threads you've created from your profile and check the dates. If the threads are there, then it's definitely the posts that are missing.

It seems the threads are already there but I am not sure from which date OMNi set to count the threads, if it's December, I have over 28 threads in Dec but if it's from 18th of Dec then I have around 23.
