Thread: Staying Home or Going Out For The New Years??

What's your plan for the New Years? Are you going out to watch fireworks, or are you chilling at home and taking it easy? I don't believe I will be going out this year.. I have a couple friends that are coming over, and will take in the New Year in the comfort of my home around people that I trust.

Most likely I will stay home. I don't like the noise and chaos. It's a bit too much for me to enjoy.

It's much safer staying home as well. There are a lot of crazies that come out on New Years.

Stay safe while you're out there fellas, and I hope you have a good time taking in the New Year.

I have a party but I'm also recovering from a burnout that happened last year, so it will depend if I'm feeling good or not, but I'm not against staying at home, sometimes it's better

Sounds a good plan! I'm going out with my friends to shoot fireworks.

We have plans for both dinner and a party/get together with family and friends for both days. Well, tonight and tomorrow I should say. Nobody really celebrates NYE during the day lol.

Staying home of course

I'm an inmate and still having to spend the next 5 years away from my family, so I said in my cell, but if I could have I would have stayed home and enjoyed every second of it next to my wife. I would give anything for that back. Don't underestimate the value of companionship
