Thread: JAILBREAK/FLASH BOP SANDISK MP3

Ftfxforever - January 5, 2025, 10:01 pm

Finally!! After all the trial and error, I have finally figured out and successfully jailbroke my Sandisk Clip Go to be able to watch movies, tv shows, download data straight from my homemade OTG!! Literally had to go through two mp3s but i have figured it out! I was going to post a video, i have one ready with metadata stripped but wouldnt let me clip to the forum!! Share your contract information and let. Me. Spread this. Wealth! Video. Call ready if need be!! FTF!!!!

He can share the method, he can post a YT video, he can also sell in the Member Sales Market

But from my experience, it sounds more like a way to drag people out of HF and scam / infect them.

Many social engineering levers have been used in his post

Thank you for the information. Yes tons of scams and I need to learn more about the HF marketplace.

Beware what he is saying can't be done with clip sport go. It does not support videos . Only jpegs. The older clip sport had the actions media chip which is atj 2127 which supports video with the right firmware. The clip sport go does not period. I have the image if anyone needs it for clip sport and clip sport go

Thanks for the headsup !

It would be nice to get a tutorial about this, there are many threads about this topic every months, as well as for JP tabs and things like that, and I'm also curious.

If you have any free time, feel free to share your knowledge through a thread !

All this talk of doing this but nobody actually says anything?

What app are you using? Where's the image. Just make a locked drive and post the link

Why sell just post how to do it. All the mp3s are 10yrs old by now. Nobody is gonna pay to jailbreak a player that's gonna fail in 2months. Can't even use them for parts since they've all been hacked at already

Terry Thompson - February 23, 2025, 9:04 pm

I have the clip sport files if you want them but it's a whole lot different than the clip sport go. I can't talk you through it but I got the package that puts the generic us212 Chinese firmware on it and I got what I think is the equivalent to the actions media software for that ic which is atj 2127. But what I have is in python so you can use it in android

Thanks to a another federal hostage I finally got the androidaudioproductool to unlock the BOP security firmware. I have been able to do the 3rd Gen clip sport go for a while now. Wanting to unlock the clip sport is how I stumbled on HACKFORUMS several years ago and fell in love with the site and most of the people here. Well I want to give a shout out to the hostage who hooked me up ,you know who you are.

Sandisk Clip Sport V1.09

Ive let it sleep and have 1,800+ days on it and in the past someone had added music through a wire on this same mp3. It's passed onto me now and I cannot connect to it even via otg wire. It pops up as connected for 5 seconds and then disappears even on a Windows computer.

Terry, or anyone on here willing to assist ..I have a sport clip go the o e with the shiny black back / blue plastic lining ..just like the one they used to sell in bop. Anyway, I was feeling generous and let someone use it overnight, they brought it back in an after having had hooked it up to the computer station to charge....it was street version but not anymore...now it says no user info and connect to kiosk to authorize..wth does that mean and how do I get it back to regular mp3.?? Any help with this matter would be highly appreciated and reimbursed, thank you very much. ?? FTF

Is there any way of reverting back from ruizu to SanDisk original software (upgrade.hex)

(Apr 11, 2026 04:13 PM)Conphones2020 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is there any way of reverting back from ruizu to SanDisk original software (upgrade.hex)

The FTP mode with volume buttons doesn't work if ruizu is already installed. How do I go about going back to FTP mode

Terry Thompson - April 11, 2026, 9:11 pm

If SanDisk is the firmware you are using you use the volume up. If your using ruizu copy the US.212 again or the 1.43 upgrade hex or whatever compatible fw file to the player then go to auto update in the ruizu settings or tools

And you can reassign whatever button to different functions.

Conphones2020 - April 11, 2026, 9:51 pm

In ruizu settings, option system take me to upgrade FW and in that it doesn't pick up 212fw or upgrade.hex it is asking to connect to USB, it's not picking up usa212 FW or upgrade.hex files (they both are copied in root directory).

Conphones2020 - April 11, 2026, 10:17 pm

Or the 1.43 or whatever

I don't think you ever tried this before, there is no auto upgrade option on ruizu. When you go to upgrade FW option on ruizu it says connect USB. I think the only way to do is manually by connecting the USB to a PC.

Terry Thompson - April 14, 2026, 8:32 pm

I know this is you doc. You need to go back and delete your last message you imbecile. Your problem is your to lazy to read. I am gonna give you step by step instructions just like I did 8 months ago .

. Launch the Flasher app you've installed on the phone.

2. Click "OPEN"

3. Browse to the /sandisk directory where the "us212a.fw" resides.

4. Click "us212a.fw"

*NOTE - For an MP3 ONLY conversion you will NOT click on the OPEN DIR button at any time.

5. Press and hold the VOLUME UP button on the MP3 while you connect the OTG cable to the MP3. Release the volume button after about 1 second. The MP3 will boot into Firmware Upgrade mode.

6. The MP3 will power up and connect to the phone. You will receive a message asking if Flasher can connect to your device. Click "Yes"

7. The "WRITE" button will illuminate and become clickable. Click "WRITE"

8. You will be presented with the question: "Allow Flasher to access null?" Click "Yes"

9. The firmware upgrade will begin and run for 30 to 45 seconds.

10. Once the conversion is finished, exit Flasher and open a file manager app on the phone.
11. COPY the "upgrade.hex" file located in the /sandisk directory to the ROOT of the attached MP3.
12. Once the copy is completed, disconnect the OTG cable and power-cycle the MP3.
13. The MP3 will boot to a screen with Chinese text and a green picture of music notes. Press the UP button on the center keypad until there is a green picture of a Cog. Click the center button.
14. A new menu with lines in Chinese will open. Press the UP button until you see the English word "language". Center click on language.
15. Press the UP button until you see English. Click on it.
16. Press the RIGHT button to go back to the menu with the green Cog picture.
17. Press the UP button until you see the green picture of the crossed green hammer and wrench. Click the CENTER button.
18. Click the UP arrow until you highlight "Auto upgrade". Click the CENTER button.
19. It will ask you if you want to "proceed with upgrade.hex?" Click "Yes"
20. The upgrade will take 20 to 30 seconds and then will restart automatically.

. Launch the Flasher app you've installed on the phone.

2. Click "OPEN"

3. Browse to the /sandisk directory where the "us212a.fw" resides.

4. Click "us212a.fw"

*NOTE - For an MP3 ONLY conversion you will NOT click on the OPEN DIR button at any time.

5. Press and hold the VOLUME UP button on the MP3 while you connect the OTG cable to the MP3. Release the volume button after about 1 second. The MP3 will boot into Firmware Upgrade mode.

6. The MP3 will power up and connect to the phone. You will receive a message asking if Flasher can connect to your device. Click "Yes"

7. The "WRITE" button will illuminate and become clickable. Click "WRITE"

8. You will be presented with the question: "Allow Flasher to access null?" Click "Yes"

9. The firmware upgrade will begin and run for 30 to 45 seconds.

10. Once the conversion is finished, exit Flasher and open a file manager app on the phone.

11. COPY the "upgrade.hex" file located in the /sandisk directory to the ROOT of the attached MP3.

12. Once the copy is completed, disconnect the OTG cable and power-cycle the MP3.

13. The MP3 will boot to a screen with Chinese text and a green picture of music notes. Press the UP button on the center keypad until there is a green picture of a Cog. Click the center button.

14. A new menu with lines in Chinese will open. Press the UP button until you see the English word "language". Center click on language.

15. Press the UP button until you see English. Click on it.

16. Press the RIGHT button to go back to the menu with the green Cog picture.

17. Press the UP button until you see the green picture of the crossed green hammer and wrench. Click the CENTER button.

18. Click the UP arrow until you highlight "Auto upgrade". Click the CENTER button.

19. It will ask you if you want to "proceed with upgrade.hex?" Click "Yes"

20. The upgrade will take 20 to 30 seconds and then will restart automatically.
