Thread: BlackJack has a Bug

Rsynced - January 13, 2025, 1:23 pm

I noticed BlackJack has a Bug, it always occurs when I do a 'split', I get a pop up about my connection being lost etc. I then have to refresh the page to continue playing. I can try to post a screen shot next time it happens. Just wanted to post this before I forgot, cause this has been going on for over a week and I keep telling myself to report it. ?

Play with your Network Tab open on Chrome tools and post which request is failing when it happens.

Make sure you click 'Preserve Log' at the top too.

Ok I will do this next time I play, I don't have time to do debugging right now.

I got the bug, but nothing shows in the Network Log. I thought it was from Splitting but I got the error again at a completely random time.

Yep that's the bug, hope it gets fixed soon.

This happens to me too, will point out I'm on brave in case that has anything to do with it. Notice when splitting but have a feeling its happened when playing without before as well.

Just tested right now got the connection lost while playing normal hand without splitting. I'm gonna guess its a brave thing since I haven't seen anyone else point it out.

Hmmm, maybe Stanley had something to do with this? I know he was on the rag the other morning.

Still not fixed? Does it only happen in brave? Can it be fixed? Is it server side or client side? IDK I suck at coding and do not have access to the database.

This maybe should be reported as a bug, not just as a lounge thread.

Ok, I reported in the bug bounty, I hope I get some bytes :)

Thanks for the help.

yes, others have had it happen also...

Maybe it is just browser related.
